136th ANNUAL MEETING

Tuesday, June 1 | 7 pm

Join us in person as we thank Shirley Davidoff for her exceptional service as our President for the last two years. Shearith Israel appreciates Shirley's leadership, support, and guidance, especially as she presided over a unique period in our history. Shirley provided direction as we worked to engage our congregants through virtual synagogue offerings. We know and are grateful that Shirley will remain actively involved in the life of our shul going forward.

We will welcome incoming President, Irving Pregler, as he begins his two-year term along with our new Officers and Board.

Watch your mail in May for a postcard invitation.

Encountering a Lion in the Parking Lot: Navigating Our Fears

by Rabbi Ari Sunshine

One of the wonderful things about Jewish tradition is how timeless and timely its wisdom tends to be, so when I encounter a nugget of this type I like to share it in as many forums as possible. This week during Men's Torah Study class on Wednesday AM we came across a particularly relevant teaching in our textbook, Mesillat Yesharim, "The Path of the Upright," an 18th century ethical guide by Rabbi Moses Hayyim Luzzatto (also known by his Hebrew acronym, the Ramchal), that really resonated for this crossroads at which we find ourselves in the COVID pandemic. The Ramchal was talking about pachad, fear, and how it can trip us up from zealously pursuing our commitment to fulfilling the positive mitzvot, commandments, in our tradition. Specifically, he differentiated between reasonable fear and foolish or irrational fear. When we experience reasonable fear, says the Ramchal, we should not ignore it and plow ahead recklessly, relying on some kind of Divine miracle to bail us out if we're wrong. We need to take responsibility to protect ourselves from danger. On the flip side, however, if the fear we are projecting is irrational fear, like, say, "I'm not going to go to the store or the shul today because I'm afraid I might encounter a lion on the way," that is something we need to overcome because it's just not grounded in reality.

I imagine that we would probably all agree that there's a difference between rational fear and irrational fear. But where we may well disagree, especially at this stage in the pandemic, is how precisely to define what fear is rational and what fear is irrational. For some that have already been vaccinated, they are fully ready to re-engage in most or all aspects of "normal" life, and yet many others who are vaccinated continue to be quite cautious and take extra precautions because they are still afraid of either catching or transmitting the virus. We need to be patient with each other and recognize that, after more than a year of isolation and with scientific data and medical recommendations inevitably lagging behind, for many people it's not going to be easy to just flip a switch and jump back into full engagement with in-person activities, even as the science is validating more firmly the level of protection the vaccines provide. At the same time, it is also important that we start opening ourselves up to trust the science and gradually begin to live again. The bottom line is that it is absolutely okay to be nervous, tentative or anxious, and it is okay to have different perspectives on what one should reasonably be afraid of at this juncture. Moreover, we as a Shearith family need to be here for each other in this slow but hopeful and vital process of moving towards once again becoming a community that primarily gathers in person, on Shabbat and during the week. May we all continue to stay safe and healthy this summer and we look forward to seeing you in-person and/or online in the weeks and months ahead.

COMING BACK TOGETHER

"During this pandemic, our havurah of 23 years had some occasional Zoom meetings and two get togethers in the Pactor's front yard so we could keep in touch. On Sunday, April 4, we held a Passover Redo Dinner, our first face to face meeting in over 6 months. Barbara and Michael Pactor and Leslie and Larry Krasner co-hosted the event in the Krasner's backyard. The hosts provided the entrees and drinks and everyone else brought a side dish and desserts. And we were lucky enough to celebrate Joel Roffman's birthday with a delicious ice cream cake.

We hope this dinner will be the beginning of our havurah having a program calendar for the remainder of this year. In the meantime, we will continue to stay in touch, check on each other, support our synagogue with its programs, study sessions, services, social action, and community service projects, and pray all of us and our congregation stay safe and well."

We came. We saw. We recycled!

In April, our congregants recycled 25000 pounds of old electronics. Recycling electronics avoids polluting groundwater and air. Additionally, blankets and newspaper were collected for animals housed at the Dallas SPCA. Thanks to the Shearith Israel Social Action Committee and the Junkluggers of Greater Dallas.

MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS SHABBAT

Shabbat Morning, May 1 | 9:30 am
In-Person, Zoom and Facebook Live

During the past year, as the pandemic has exacerbated isolation and loneliness, many have grappled with depression and other mental health challenges. This includes people who have lived with mental health issues in the past and people who feel their emotional well-being at risk for the first time.

After our morning Shabbat service, Rabbi Shira Wallach will be joined by preeminent researcher and the Betty Jo Hay Distinguished Chair in Mental Health at UT Southwestern Medical Center, Dr. Madhukar H. Trivedi. Dr. Trivedi, a Professor in the Department of Psychiatry serves as Chief of the Division of Mood Disorders and the founding Director of the Center for Depression Research and Clinical Care. Along with his specialty in treating depression, Dr. Trivedi is also an internationally recognized translational researcher, President-Elect of the American Society of Clinical Psychopharmacology, and was listed by Thomson Reuters' World's Most Influential Scientific Minds as one of the nation's most highly cited researchers in psychiatry in 2014, 2015, and 2017.

Following the discussion, Shearith member Sara Levinson Eidelman, MPH, MSLOC, Senior Project Manager at the Center for Depression Research and Clinical Care, UT Southwestern Medical Center will share information about a new, free, confidential, self-monitoring tool designed to enhance and improve well-being through self-awareness and tailored feedback. The tool, EVEXIA, includes specific suggestions to help each person activate a personal journey to wellness driven by their individual responses.

The morning will end with a Q & A session. Please plan to join us for this morning of health and healing.

ευεξία lets you track your wellness, depression/anxiety symptoms, and function over time. It also provides you with information & recommendations to improve your mental health and overall well-being.

The Jewish State by Theodor Herzl

Theodor Herzl's passionate advocacy of the founding of a Jewish state grew out of his conviction that Jews would never be assimilated into the populations in which they lived. Born in Budapest, Hungary in 1860, Herzl encountered anti-Semitism when he attended a scientific secondary school. Later, as a newspaper correspondent in Paris, he was shocked and dismayed by the anti-Semitic prejudice surrounding the notorious Dreyfus affair (Herzl said in later years that it was the Dreyfus affair that had made a Zionist out of him). Herzl concluded that the only solution for the majority of Jews would be organized emigration to a state of their own. Book discussion led by Kathi Silver with commentary from Bettina Katz

SHEARITH ISRAEL YOUTH

At the Weitzman Family Religious School (WFRS) we instill students with a love of Judaism and learning, and a powerful connection to Israel. We seamlessly weave Jewish learning throughout our educational programs, helping students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to observe holiday rituals, participate fully in services, and read Hebrew.

Students at every grade level gain an understanding and knowledge of prayers, holidays, history, ethics, and learn the tools to explore Jewish questions and issues relevant to their lives. We incorporate art, music, and hands-on learning for all students. Our curriculum is continuously evolving to best meet the needs of our students and families. This student-centered approach to instruction offers innovative, interactive lessons that encourage connection, fun, and learning while students build and maintain a tight-knit peer community.

At WFRS we understand Judaism is not just meant to be studied; it is meant to be lived. Our educational program is built on experiential learning that emphasizes students taking part in and creating their own learning opportunities.

Our engaging program consists of Shabbat and holiday worship, experiential programs, art, music, and family education in addition to academics. Parents are vital partners with the school in supporting its overall goals and in fostering an environment in which Jewish education and practice are valued. Various Shabbat and family experiences complement the religious school education. We want our children to develop positive attitudes toward Jewish tradition and Jewish values.

WFRS offers a stimulating and nourishing environment where learning is for everyone —and additional resources are available for students of all needs.

We hope your family will join us to create meaningful lasting memories, cultivates a love of Judaism, and supports intentional Jewish living.

Be a part of our magnificent Weitzman Family Religious School! Enroll for the 2021 -22 school year.
Contact our Director of Education, Sarah Lipinsky at slipinsky@shearith.org
