As an educator, leader, and pastor his mission has been to transform lives, build leaders, and strengthen families by helping people discover and live in the grace of God found in Jesus Christ

In his strides toward education, Patrick Winfield received his Bachelors of Arts Degree in English, with a minor in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He received a Master's of Divinity from McCormick Theological Seminary and continued his passion for education through many opportunities including teaching (Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate), departmental leadership, coaching, and administration (notably as Principal of Clay Academy). He is pursuing a Doctorate in Education from Dallas Baptist University.

Among his accomplishments, he helped establish a college Bible study that still ministers to college students at UIUC to keep them grounded in God. His passion in service and leadership led to a vibrant youth ministry in Chicago. He has served in short term missions in South Africa, Namibia, Kenya and Cebu (Philippines). He has also been blessed to minister in the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Patrick Winfield's passion for education and leadership has afforded him the opportunity to facilitate seminars and workshops, nationally and internationally. A few topics that he has spoken on are: Bullying in the Classroom, Student Behavior and Learning, Creative Problem Solving, Finding My Best Fit, Leadership and Leaderspects: Inspective and Introspective Leadership, to name a few. In addition, he has hosted his own internet broadcast covering topics such as Healthy Relationships, Achieving God's Destiny, and Walking in Divine Purpose. His new book, Unleashing Greatness: Learning to Walk in Your Potential, is soon to be released.

Patrick Winfield's greatest inspiration, by far, is Veronica, his wife, and their three sons: Christiaan, Joshua, and Caleb.
